Dear Parents and Carers,

I am writing with an update regarding the school's Covid safety measures.

Covid-19 safety measures

You may have heard that Government has allowed schools to reduce some safety measures, such as the wearing of masks in the building. However, there are still a larger than expected number of cases in Yeading and I received a letter from the NHS indicating that the Indian variant was present in this area of London.

For these reasons, all staff and students will continue to wear masks at least until half term.

I have been very pleased that students have taken the wearing of masks so seriously and we have not had a positive case in the school since the 10th March. Our first priority to keep one another safe, which we have successfully done for some time now.

I wish you all a very restful weekend.

Yours sincerely

John Jones
Headteacher
